

The University of Portland School of Nursing is pleased to announce our involvement in the second annual Health Professions Week! On November 10th students will have an opportunity to tour our Learning Resource Center 11 am – 2 pm. We are very excited to engage young people in learning more about the opportunities available through a career in nursing.

What is HPW?

HPW is an exciting week-long event for high school and college students interested in learning more about careers in the health professions. Events will provide students with interactive opportunities to explore health-related education programs and careers.

How is the University of Portland Participating?

The University of Portland School of Nursing is coordinating a Community Connect Day. Students will have the opportunity to walk through our state of the art model hospital and outpatient clinic. The Learning Resource Center consists of an acute care lab, ambulatory care lab, classroom, and three dedicated simulation theaters.

Questions? Contact Elisa Majors, Community Engagement Manager, majorse@up.edu